
How about the Skoda!?!?

Geschrieben von stiiv70 - 25.03.2015 09:27

Hi guys,

Can I propose the Skoda 130RS as add-on car?
:cheer:

Have you ever driven the car? In my opinion is quite easy to handling and has a good speed.

Hi Stefano,

welcome on green Bude. Would be nice if you could introduce yourself and tell a bit about you, when joining the community.

Generally we are open minded about new cars (if they fit to our content), but if you want to have a new car here, you have to develop it yourself.

Basically there are only a few Groups existing which are build up cars from scratch for different Racing Simulation, and it's their choice what they build up. May one of them are interested to create this one? Nevertheless it will need some Patience until it is created and fulfils the requirements.

May have a look around the Web if someone has planned to create it.

Having fun here on green also is possible with existing content.

CU on Track,
Holger

Ok I will do a brief presentation.

The parking lot is awesome here, and i will enjoy a lot!!!:cheer:
You are doin' a wonderful job to keep GTL alive, thanks for all. :D

Hi,

I presume you're suggesting the Skoda by AHTOAH that's on NoGrip? It's a good car, and I also like the Jag XJS and the Austin Healey Sprite that's also there. It would be good to see them all on the Bude.

Yes, I've downloaded it from NoGrip. it was just a suggestion, beside I don't know if "Bude" must ask the permission to the creators of the car but I presume the answer is yes.

If I can do something to help let me know. :cheer:

Forgive me guys but I'm totally new to the racing online, I 've been a "solitary" driver for many years and only now I've discovered this wonderful world. :lol:
