\ "Disconnected from server\" on long tracks

Geschrieben von byagm - 23.08.2017 15:04

Hi people.

I have a problem with long tracks such as NOS, Targa,... (yes, only long tracks)

IÄ´m driving with several people, passed 10-15 mins (always simikar time), they cant see me, I keep watching them, and ABB website shows me still in map (while moving).

Passed few secs/mins server says them "user left the game" and I see them frozed.

My router its loggin all possible and it shows no disconections neither on DSL or Ethernet, so I guess connection cuts are discarded.

I have a bad connection, 60ms 3500kbps/380kbps, but never have had that problems. I dont know if ABB server needs better connection or kicks me if I dont have it.

IÄ´ve been testing when frozes other people, and, at least in NOS70, its when they start a new lap (I see their car frozed starting a lap).

Same problem still...

Thanks anyway

IÄ´m testing to play with my mobile connection by no luck neither, as it disconnects itself.

question:

did you try "always rebuild HAT"? Autoupdater/Tweaks/Profile]

the funktion of the HAT Files is explained in the Autoupdater, but what is the function of BCH files ?

4gb patch is in use. I cannot charge targa if its not installed.

Some news. IÄ¼m using right now a USB 3G stick, wich gives me a 68ms 4250kbps/4030kbps connection.

With this connection this has happened.

Practice ok -> Qualy ok -> Race:

Lap 1, I end 1st but when the last arrives lap, it "kicks" me to the last possition.

Lap 2, IÄ¼m on last possition, but when the 1st ends lap (that exact moment), I stop watching other players and secons later it says "byAGM left the game".

One question... Both Targa and NOS70 (where server "kicks" me) are in ABB server 8. Could be possible to have a server problem or to have the server programmed to send bigger data packages? EDIT: tested NOSTourist on server 4. Same problems. Long tracks are que thing...

Thanks for reading.

Hi,

can you test with a Lan-connection?

And what is about the energy settings of the networkadapter? Perhaps windows will set them to energy saving after some time.

Thanks for your answer.

Actually I am on "full power" energy setting in windows.

IÂ'll try a Lan connection, but IÂ'll need to install gtl in other pc to create a race with other server instead of my own pc.

Anyway, it bugs/kicks me with USB 3g connection too... Tried with WIFI, Ethernet and USB3gStick.

On my mind its this question: why It allows me to play in not-long tracks without any problem? :blink:

IÂ'll keep informing. Thanks.

Hi,

looks like timeout/energy saving or something else for network inactivity about this time.

GTL ist very sensible for this - don't know which component(s) of your equipment may cause it.

Which Version of windows did you test?

IÂ'm as allways on Windows 10 (comp.10240).

IÂ´ve tried in 2 different PC-s.

In both PC-s IÂ´ve try with Lan, Wi-fi, and 3Gusb. None of then works. (3g usb has 80ms ping, anyway seems to work little bit better (server disconnects me later with 3g).

Since a pair of months I have a new connection at home.

Ping 60ms

Down 3500kbps

Up 380kbps

Yes, 60ms its not a good latency, but its not unplayable.

Could be possible to configurate servers to allow worst quality users? (I mean, in connection XD)

Or maybe my any .ini file to have any data packaging configuration to work better.

As said, the strangest thing is that that only happens in long tracks. In short tracks sometimes happens that my car is jumping in box when I get into.

Ty rdjango.

PD: IÂ´ve no more PC-s/mobiles connected to my router (checked on DHCP table of ther router)

PPD: IÂ´ve no disconnections or microdisconnections on my router as I log all routing movements and I barely see disconnections from 3 to 4 days.

Hi,

very difficult. Your equipment should work. I allways have disconnects sometimes, but not especially on long tracks. 3 laps on brno did work on saturday twice.

So you can try tools like traceroute, wireshark or others to find more about the problems with your connection. Also in other game-forums I found a few years ago some tipps about disconnections and windows 7 or 8, maybe you find some for windows 10.

Re:Aw: Re: Disconnects ...

Geschrieben von byagm - 30.08.2017 19:04

Never heard about wireshark. IÂ´ll try.

About disconnections, yes, sometimes network disconnections happens, but the thing is that my connection never disconnects. Its kinda automatical: I only can make 2 laps and in the 3rd kicks me. It happened me in NOS with LMC. Same happens me in Brno65, I exit from pit, complete 1st lap and frozes my car in server (I keep playing on my pc, as it doesnt tell me "youÂ´ve been disconnected" ). I check it by watching ABB server map. Sometimes happens too that I get in to the server and my old "frozed player" still keeps in, so sometimes I see 2 byAGM-s on server during few seconds.

I dont know if IÂ´m gonna solve this, by the moment hope all this helps somebody to solve its connection problems. Next days IÂ´m gonna try wifislax and lets try with another connection... yo know...

Thanks for the info, Rdjango

Hi AGM

some long years ago i had connection with 2Mbit.

On long tracks I had similar probs. Long tracks have bigger size, f.ex. NOS Tourist 119mb. Most tracks are between 20 - 40mb.

Try "bigger" connection, 10Mbit for me is enough, works fine.

That info is great. The thing is that I really have litte better connection than before (I had 1mb and now 3,5mb), and before I could play without problems. I'm pretty sure the problem is done by Latency. With more download connectio I could have better latency, but where I live now I cannot have better connection copper doenst pay more than 3.5 and companies still doenst bring me optic fiber.

Thanks for your experience info. Thats very nice for statistics of connection needed.

News about disconnections on long tracks.

Like it happens on NOS and such as a big tracks, Brno65 has the same problem for me BUT after tens of tests yesterday I've try to make a 3 lap race against Shaggy. I just disconnected my TS and... voilÃ ... server allowed me to end the race counting me all laps.

I dont know if this means that its the solution, but its the biggest step since disconnections started to me in long tracks.

Some data:

I have make a tracert to game1.bierbuden.de and it shows me 12 steps with a 89ms final ping.

My server connection ping is 70, so its 70ms+19ms.

I have ask to other racer from Argentina to make a tracert and it shows him 18 steps with a 239ms final ping. His server connection ping is 12, so its 12ms+227ms.

Mine: 70ms+19ms (problems playing)

Him: 12ms+227ms (no problems playing)

Hi byagm, maybe I got a solution for your Problem:

if you got a smart-phone, you can easily use Teamspeak on your Phone instead of using it on your Computer! It works really fine and stable! I will try this solution as well, especially at Brno65, just to improve my fps. And live-tracking will run on another PC/Laptop as well, so my main-PC can fully "concentrate" on GTL ;-)

I tested this solution now a few times and it works really fine. Maybe you should try this as well. I keep my fingers crossed for you! ;-)

with kind regards

Help! to main server admins about \"disconnections\"

Geschrieben von byagm - 12.10.2017 11:32

Ok.
Tested again:
- Wifi dissabled on router.
- Windows update, Teamspeak and other possible things dissabled. (checked on task manager)
- Connected via Ethernet cable.

Kicked from server with same problem. "El Oso Rulo" has same problem, and Marcel has told me he saw "Dirk" with same problem.

For new people I repeat whats the problem: On long track races (Brno, Nos,...) we can make only 2 laps before being kicked. On first lap time doesnt show and when other pilots finish its 2nd lap we just dissappear at the exact moment they pass the finish line (on 2nd lap).

CONCLUSSION: Its not a PC or game problem, its just an altbierbude server connection tolerance thing. I just have a 90ms ping to game1.bierbudende server. Its not a good ping, but its not a bad ping neither. Could please administrators do something to change that tolerance factor from servers?

Well, IÂ´m so happy to tell that IÂ´ve find the solution to my problem!

The problem was the tolerance of main servers to allow my "private IP" connection.
I called a couple of days ago to my internet provider and they changed my conection type to "public dynamic IP".

Now I can play on long tracks such as Targa, NOS, Brno65,etc.

Thanks everybody for your concern and help during this 2 long moths of tests. :)

Oi Rogero!

Do you have >200ms latency with brasilian servers too? You can try it in www.speedtest.net

1 year ago I had a very bad connection (3mbps/750kbps 80ms) and I had disconnections (as explained in this post) I just called my internet provider and explained them my problem. They changed my IP from "private dynamic IP" to "PUBLIC dynamic IP". Problem was solved.

Another solution could be having a "public static IP" but that's not free...

Hi all..

My computer and GTL settings are correct. My latency for brazilian servers is 10ms maximum !! I've tried more than one online gaming optimization app and nothing has changed. The reality is that the road to Strasbourg from my city in Brazil is very long. In the command "trace" I can observe that to arrive in Europe the path is made via USA. Hence latency greater than 200ms! But this delay time is less than a snap (0.2s) .. Why does disconnection only happen during the race? In practice and qualifications it works normally. Does anyone know the answer? :dry: :unsure:
